The image shows a 'User Registration' dialog box for the 'Pluck' application. The dialog has a title bar 'User Registration' and a Pluck logo. On the left, there is promotional text: 'Why register: Can't share. Can't sync. What can you do? More marketing stuff.' The main area contains registration fields: 'E-mail address:' with the value 'busey@pluck.com', 'Password:' with '', and 'Confirm Password:' with ''. A note states: 'E-mail addresses must be verified before the account can become active. In future versions you will be able to register multiple e-mail addresses.' Another note states: 'Passwords must be at least six characters in length and must contain at least one number or symbol.' Below these is a question 'Do you use multiple computers?' with radio buttons for 'Yes' (selected) and 'No'. A final note says: 'Select yes if you use multiple computers and you want Pluck to help you keep your web experience synchronized between them.' At the bottom are three buttons: '< Back', 'Next >', and 'Cancel'. A reference number '300' with an arrow points to the 'Confirm Password' field.

The image shows a software dialog box titled "User Registration" with a subtitle "Multiple Computers Synchronization Options". It contains two radio button questions. The first question asks if the user wants Pluck to automatically synchronize favorites information between multiple computers, with "Yes" selected. The second question asks if the user wants Pluck to import favorites from Internet Explorer into Pluck Favorites, also with "Yes" selected. A note explains that synchronization only works with Pluck Favorites. A "What is synchronization?" link is provided. A footer message states that synchronization can be turned on later. At the bottom are three buttons: "< Back", "Next >", and "Cancel". A reference numeral "300" with an arrow points to the right side of the dialog box.

The image shows a software dialog box titled "User Registration". Inside, there is a section titled "E-mail Notification Options" with the subtitle "Sharing Links with Users Who Are Not Registered with Pluck". The main text asks: "If a user does not have Pluck installed, Pluck will automatically e-mail the shared link, note, and other information to the user. Is this ok?". There are two radio buttons: "Yes" (selected) and "No". Below this, a note states: "If you do not enable this option, attempts to share links with users who are not Pluck users will not be work." Another line of text says: "If you would like to include an additional message in this e-mail type it here:". This is followed by a text input field with the placeholder "Enter Text" and a vertical toolbar with icons for undo, redo, and other editing functions. An arrow labeled "300" points to this toolbar. Below the input field, there is a link: "If you would like to see what these e-mails look like, click here." A small note at the bottom reads: "Note: Pluck uses e-mail addresses only to deliver links you have shared with users, we do not sell these e-mail addresses or use them for other purposes." At the very bottom of the dialog are three buttons: "< Back", "Next >", and "Cancel".
